

When The Angel Sent Butterflies

Children need to know love from their parents and others surrounds them. Love conquers fear and believing that angels are near can help sweep any childhood fear away.

In this story Angel Ken's sending Jones and Kate butterflies was my example of sending love.

Author:

Jody Sharpe had a rewarding career as a Special Education teacher. Writing about angels became healing after losing her daughter and then her husband. The valuable lessons she learned about moving forward and loving life in the now have set her on a mission. She has written three other fiction novels about angels who live among us: The Angel's Daughter, To Catch An Angel and Town of Angels. Learn more at www.JodySharpe.com.

Illustrator:

Susan Clare Anderson has an associate Teacher Certificate and additional studies in Child Development.

She has experience working with children and strives to create quality books by providing colorful illustrations that not only help tell the story but also capture the imagination.

When The Angel

Sent Butterflies

Written By Jody Sharpe
Illustrated By Susan Clare Anderson